“GENUINE AND DURABLE PARTNERSHIPS: COMBATting CLIMATE CHANGE”
PACIFIC SIDS,
IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE GLOBAL PARTNERSHIPS FORUM,
THE MARY ROBINSON FOUNDATION - CLIMATE JUSTICE, AND THE UNITED NATIONS
DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL AFFAIRS

2.00 - 3.30 pm, Monday 29th June 2015, Conference Room 6

Climate change poses one of the most pressing challenges for the global community in the 21st Century. For the Pacific region, it poses existential challenges threatening the survival of whole communities, nations, peoples and cultures.

We cannot meaningfully speak of Sustainable Development Goals, and a “Future We Want”, without the active engagement of the international community. We welcome the opportunity to develop innovative partnerships and alliances to adapt and build the resilience of our nations and our people in the face of the monumental challenges from the impact of climate change.

We invite you to join us as we share our stories with the international community at the wings of the UNGA High Level Climate Change meeting on 29th June 2015.

Speakers include:

H.E. Mr. Anote Tong, President of the Republic of Kiribati

H.E. Mr. Ban Ki-moon, Secretary-General, United Nations (invited)

H.E. Mrs. Mary Robison, President and Founder, Mary Robison Foundation - Climate Justice

Honourable Tony DeBrum, Minister of Foreign Affairs, the Republic of the Marshall Islands

Facilitated by: Mr. Amir Dossal: Chairman and Founder, Global Partnerships Forum

Additional Confirmed High-level Speakers

- H.E. Ms. Isabella Lövin, Minister for International Development Cooperation, Sweden
- Mr. Carl Linaburg, Co-Founder and Chairman of the Board, Sovereign Wealth Funds Institute
- Ms. Ann Korando, CEO, EarthEcho International
